Dear Mr. Bryant,

We all know that person, the one who has everything, who doesn't need new socks, or another tie, who is practically impossible to surprise and even harder to impress. And as the holidays creep closer, that one person is still on your shopping list, no check by their name.

At the University of South Carolina, we can help. Today, you can make a donation in honor of that special someone and give them the gift of:

- Student scholarships
- World-class faculty and staff
- A historic and beautiful campus
- Countless travel-abroad trips
- A stronger Carolina community

Even the pickiest of people on your list won't be able to resist the magic of Carolina this holiday season. Make your donation today, and rest easy that the best gift, a strong Carolina, is secure.

Make your gift to Carolina today!

There's no shipping fee, no rush delivery, nothing to wrap -- just warm, fuzzy feelings for your friends, family and fellow Gamecocks.

Happy holidays!
