Gov. Nikki Haley Appoints Mike Campbell to S.C. Workers' Compensation Commission
COLUMBIA, S.C. – Governor Nikki Haley today announced the appointment of Mike Campbell to the South Carolina Workers' Compensation Commission (WCC).

Campbell currently serves as a business development consultant and advisory board member for PositiveID Corporation and was a recent Republican candidate for Lieutenant Governor in South Carolina.

"Mike Campbell is committed to making South Carolina a better place to live, work and raise a family, and I am confident that his professional background will serve the commission well," said Gov. Nikki Haley. "As a small businessman and someone who cares deeply about his community, Mike's experience will give him the insight needed to be both business-friendly and fair – exactly the qualities we want our commissioners to have."

In 2003, Campbell was appointed to the Governing Board of the South Carolina Department of Natural Resources, where he served as Vice-Chairman. In addition, he also served as Chairman of the Law Enforcement Advisory Committee for eight years.

Campbell is also a former member of the board of directors for the South Carolina Chamber of Commerce's Small Business Committee.

"As a longtime small businessman, I share Governor Haley's commitment to creating a better and fairer climate for employers and workers in our state," said Mike Campbell. "The Workers Compensation Commission plays a vital role in this process, and I am deeply honored that Governor Haley has asked me to serve."
