Subject: ASA Winter holiday membership offer

Dear Anthony,

Are you missing ASA's great coverage of timely topics? The just-released fall issue of Generations on Aging and the Importance of Oral Health explores a topic of essential importance to healthy aging. Aging Today continues to cover the myriad issues of public policy, brain health, innovations, spirituality and more. Should you like to catch up, we're pleased to announce a holiday reinstatement campaign through December 21, and offer a year's individual professional membership, regularly $255, for $195. (view the other membership types: Green, Emerging Professional, Student, Retired and Organizational and their fees here .)

This downloadable application form outlines in detail the great value you'll enjoy from re-engaging with ASA and it's easy to rejoin. Log on at this link and use the promo code REN6 on checkout, or print and complete the form to mail, or fax back. If you have questions or require any assistance, please contact Ms. Jutka Mándoki, membership director, at jmandoki@asaging.org 415.974.9630, or respond directly to me and we can follow up.

Best regards,

Bob

PS. In addition to the Generations issue, we'll also send you a copy of the DVD, Maturity Re-Imagined, Ken Dychtwald's presentation from the 2015 Aging in America conference. Take a look at the future of aging and how the boomers will affect all aspects of society.
