Subject: The Lights are on at the Hospice House

Give a gift of Hope

Remember, the lights are on at the Wayne T. Patrick Hospice House this Holiday Season

As the holiday season approaches, many of us are reminded of the comfort we feel when celebrating some holiday traditions. But we also are reminded that in a world enamored with the lights and sounds of the season that there is still work to be done.

Tonight, and every night, during the holiday season we will send nurses out to neighbors' homes to provide comfort to patients and their families. We will staff a Hospice House full of community members spending their holidays, not at home, but at a bedside vigil.

We are able to do this work - to extend this remarkable hope to all - to let them know that they matter until the end because of your gifts.

Will you please consider making a gift to Hospice & Community Care this holiday season? Its impact will immediately help families cope with suffering, confusion, doubts and fears that surround a loved one's death. And offer hope.

We appreciate you and are thankful for the gifts you share.
