Hi - I am looking for campsites at Lee State Park for the weekend of Feb 20th and it seems like for some reason almost all are booked for that weekend (and not the weekend before or after) - just wondering if there's an event happening at the park? Please let me know what event may be happening so I can figure out if I should avoid that park that weekend. Thank you!

We are not holding any events at this time, unless there is a horse group or someone else holding an event. You would need to contact the park directly for this info: <https://southcarolinaparks.com/lee>
