

State of South Carolina

Governor's Proclamation

WHEREAS, America's system of public lands includes parks, unique landscapes, forests, wildlife refuges, historic trails, natural streams and wetlands, nature centers, gardens, and other landmark areas that individually and collectively represent irreplaceable national resources; and

WHEREAS, public lands throughout South Carolina and the nation provide natural and cultural resources for environmental learning, wildlife appreciation, and recreation; and

WHEREAS, National Public Lands Day is an innovative, public/private partnership event that encourages volunteers of all ages to work together restoring and enhancing our federal, state, and local public lands; and

WHEREAS, the 2012 observance of National Public Lands Day provides a unique opportunity to raise awareness of the importance of land conservation and stewardship to our quality of life.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Nikki R. Haley, Governor of the Great State of South Carolina, do hereby proclaim September 29, 2012, as throughout the state and encourage all South Carolinians to learn more about the benefits of land conservation, restoration, and enhancement and to work together to ensure the preservation of our public lands for generations to come.
