Subject: BREAKING Walmart applauds Supreme Court decision in South Dakota v. Wayfair

Dear Kevin Bryant,

We wanted to share with you our official statement below in response to the Supreme Court decision in South Dakota v. Wayfair. Walmart has long advocated greater sales tax fairness for main street businesses, which will benefit both our customers and our communities.

We applaud the Supreme Court for closing a loophole that has existed for over two decades and produced an uneven playing field for main street businesses. Local communities are also the winners because they will now be able to collect sales tax dollars owed and needed to fund public services, including education, public safety and infrastructure improvements. We look forward to continuing to work with Congress and state legislatures to help ensure a level playing field exists for all retailers.

--

Sincerely,

Brooke
