Article III General Regulations Relating to Loan Maximums, Administration and Repayment

62-30 Loan Maximums

- A. The maximum amount an eligible student may borrow under this program for an academic year of two (2) semesters or three (3) quarters, or the equivalent, is $5,000.
- B. A loan may not exceed the cost of education less any financial aid awarded to the student.
- C. The aggregate outstanding indebtedness for any student who has not completed an undergraduate program of education may not exceed $25,000. The aggregate outstanding indebtedness for graduate study, to include all undergraduate loans, may not exceed $35,000.

62-31 Loan Administration

- A. All loans shall be secured by a Promissory Note and shall bear interest from the date of disbursement of funds to the borrower at the rate of 12% per annum.
- B. The proceeds of a loan shall normally be disbursed by academic registration period, but not sooner than required by the student to meet his educational expenses. A check made co-payable to the borrower and to the institution will be forwarded to the institution for distribution to the borrower; provided, however, that in situations in which it is not feasible to issue the check co-payable, the check will be made payable to the borrower alone and forwarded to the institution.
- C. Student and institution shall agree to return to the Corporation any refunds applicable to these loans to which the student is entitled due to withdrawal of the student from the institution.

62-32 Repayment

- A. A student who receives loans under this program shall be eligible to have 20% of the loan(s) cancelled for each full year, or 10% for each complete term of teaching experience, up to a maximum of 100% of the amount of the loan(s) plus the interest thereon. There shall be no cancellation for partial terms.
- B. If a borrower does not meet the requirements for cancellation as specified in paragraph A above, the borrower must begin repayment of the loan(s) received under this program in accordance with the Regulations of the Corporation and the Commission and subject to the terms of the Promissory Note(s), unless otherwise agreed to by the Corporation and the borrower. If a borrower does not initially meet the requirements for cancellation as set forth in paragraph A above, but subsequently does so, there will be no refund or credit provided for any amount paid; provided, however, any unpaid balance at the time the borrower begins teaching will be eligible for cancellation subject to the regulations contained herein.
 - (1) Repayment of the principal amount of a loan made under this program together with the interest, shall be made in monthly installments beginning six (6) months after the date on which the borrower ceases to carry at least one-half the normal fulltime academic work load at an eligible institution as defined by the Authority. The monthly installment shall be at a rate which will repay the loan in not more than ten (10) years from the beginning of the repayment period. Unless specifically authorized by the Corporation, the monthly installment shall be at a rate of not less than $50 per month. A borrower may accelerate repayment of the loan, in whole or in part, without penalty.
 - (2) In the event a borrower dies, the obligation to make any further repayment shall be cancelled upon receipt of a certificate of death, and in the event a borrower becomes totally and permanently disabled, the obligation to make any further repayment shall be cancelled upon receipt of certification by a licensed physician and upon receipt of such other medical evidence as the Corporation may require.

The methodology proposed here would begin by separating total E&G costs into the following categories:

- 1) the costs generated by in-state undergraduate students,
- 2) the costs generated by out-of-state undergraduate students, and
- 3) the costs generated by graduate students.

Two categories for in-state first professional students and for out-of-state first professional students would also be added.

Begin with the formula amount generated by in-state undergraduate students and take 20% of this amount. This is the rate traditionally used by CHE. Next, graduate students would be charged at the same amount per FTE (not the same percentage) as for in-state undergraduates. Finally, this leaves costs associated with out-of-state undergraduates. This proposal would deduct 50% of this amount.

When determining the out-of-state ratios used to calculate the costs generated by out-of-state undergraduates, it is proposed that FTE's be approximated by using the formula, $FTE = \text{full-time} + 1/3 \text{ part-time}$. This method of equating 3 part-time students with 1 full-time student is a generally accepted method of converting from headcount to FTE and has been used in various national surveys.

This proposal would replace the current revenue step of the formula and also the doctoral adjustment step. The doctoral adjustment step already accomplishes some of what this proposal does for doctoral level credit hours.

There are a few special cases. At South Carolina State a rate of 15% (instead of 20%) for in-state undergraduate students is used. For out-of-state students, 37.5% is deducted or 2.5 times the in-state rate. At MUSC the rates proposed are 10% for undergraduates because undergraduates at MUSC generate twice as much as at other institutions. Three institutions - MUSC, USC, and USC Med School - have the first professional level. At MUSC and the USC-School of Medicine the rates used are 5% for in-state first professional students (i.e. medical doctors) and 12 1/2% for out-of-state first professional students. At USC the first professional category consists of law and pharmacy students. Here the proposed rates are 15% for in-state students and 37.5% for out-of-state students. This rate would yield revenue consistent with USC's tuition for law students.

The Committee on Business and Finance recommends that this change in revenue step methodology be adopted. The Committee further recommends that it be implemented over a two-year period, beginning with the 1990-91 formula.

ANALYSIS OF TUITION AND REQUIRED FEES FOR FULL-TIME GRADUATE STUDENTS

S.C. COMMISSION ON HIGHER EDUCATION

The Commission on Higher Education conducted a survey to gather information on tuition and required fees for full-time graduate students from peer institutions selected from the Southern Regional Education Board (SREB) states. The areas surveyed were: (1) residency requirements for the purpose of tuition and fees, (2) waivers of tuition and required fees policies, and (3) Educational and General (E&G) tuition and fees. Thirty-one colleges and universities were included in the survey; twenty-five (81%) responded. The staff also did a comparison of the In-State and Out-of-State Graduate Enrollment (See Attachment 4).

RESIDENCY REQUIREMENTS FOR TUITION AND FEES

All SREB states surveyed, including South Carolina (North Carolina, Georgia, Tennessee, Virginia, Mississippi, Texas and *Alabama) have similar criteria for establishing residency. Following are the general residency requirements for those states.

* Students who reside in Georgia counties which are contiguous to the Alabama state line are charged in-state tuition rates.

One must have lived in the state no less than twelve months, prior to enrollment, with the intention of making a permanent home therein (i.e., maintaining a bona fide domicile). An individual may have to provide documentation (voter registration one year prior to enrollment, driver's license, real estate ownership, etc.) to support the claim that ties to other states have ceased and that ties of the new state of residency are established. Persons who reside in the state may also be eligible for in-state rates under the following conditions: (1) permanent full-time employment, (2) a dependent of a employee at an institution which the individual plans to enroll, (3) military personnel and dependents, (4) graduate teaching and research assistantships, requiring at least one-third time service at such institution, and (5) a married person may claim the residence of his/her spouse.

POLICIES FOR WAIVING TUITION AND FEES

Seventeen of the twenty-five (68%) colleges and universities responding to the survey stated that their institutions do have some type of policy for waiving graduate students tuition and fees (See Attachment 1). It should be noted that by and large the institutions that have a policy for waiving graduate students' tuitions and fees are major research institutions.
