WELCOME TO SMART CITIES NOW

Updates on smart city progress around the globe

NEWS & TRENDS

What makes San Diego so smart? As part of its series on smart cities, National Geographic will start airing an hour-long documentary on San Diego later this month. It's the only North American city to be profiled. Why San Diego? Click for a look at some of the smart things the city is doing. MORE >>

Greenhouse gas be gone! Greenhouse gases are far more common in power facilities than most people realize. They're used as insulation in high-voltage equipment. But revolutionary technology from Alstom Grid is changing that. Read about its new UK project. MORE >>

Easing road construction snarls: Construction season often adds angst to already messy commutes. Learn how sensors and Bluetooth technology are helping drivers negotiate a major road construction project on a stretch of U.S. 31 in Michigan. Would the solution solve problems for your city? Get details. MORE >>

PARTNER SPOTLIGHT: Cisco, GRID20/20, Intel, CH2M

Panama City plans to get smart with help from Cisco... GRID20/20 adopts new services-centric focus... Intel announces its EdTech Startup Accelerator to boost student success... No more HILL for CH2M. MORE >>

PILOTS & PROJECTS

How homes help stabilize electric grid: Some households in Germany are not only generating their own power, they're also playing a role in stabilizing the overall electric grid. Learn how Siemens is helping Germany ease the transition to more renewable power. MORE >>

TOOLS & RESOURCES

App helps innovators innovate: The results of innovation are all around us whether it's technology, a service or a product. But what separates a great new approach from a dead-end idea? How do you organize innovation? At the risk of sounding trite, there really is an app for that. MORE >>
