Thank you for the quick reply, Danny. At this time we don't have plans for a subsequent event. However if that were to change, I will definitely let you know.

Best regards,

Courtney, thanks a lot, but he's speaking in Aiken at 11am. Will you have another such ceremony?

Danny,

Good afternoon. We would be honored if Lieutenant Governor Bryant could attend the event Tuesday morning. Please let me know if it works with his schedule.

Thank you!

Courtney

We cordially invite you to the Launch of the In-Store Safe Medication Disposal Program to Combat Opioid Abuse Epidemic in South Carolina

CVS Health Executive Vice President Thomas M. Moriarty will be joined by Attorney General Alan Wilson to launch the expansion of CVS Health's safe drug disposal program at a CVS Pharmacy in Lexington on Tuesday, January 23. The program will, for the first time, allow the public to bring unused medication to select CVS Pharmacy locations in South Carolina for safe, environmentally friendly disposal. Proper disposal of unwanted medication is critical to preventing leftover or unused opioids from being diverted or abused. This new program expands on an ongoing safe medication disposal partnership between CVS Health and law enforcement across the country that has already collected more than 100 metric tons of unused medication.
