

*When there was an outbreak of measles in England, then the Miller, householder, etc. should make the point. If a child becomes even sicker, it does not be reported in England. The report is desired of children before the sixth month of pregnancy.