NCOA, national groups urge new leaders to protect senior programs

NCOA has joined with dozens of other national groups to call for the incoming Administration and Congress to protect and improve programs for older Americans. A letter from the Leadership Council of Aging Organizations (LCAO) outlines priorities in the areas of health care, community services, and retirement security. A letter from national aging and disability organizations to Congressional leaders urges them not to repeal the Affordable Care Act (ACA) without enacting a replacement plan at the same time.
