Subject: Walmart Pledges $20 million in Harvey Relief

Dear Kevin Bryant,

Walmart and the Walmart Foundation have committed up to $20 million in support of relief efforts in response to the severe weather impacting the Gulf region. This includes $10 million focused on support of American Red Cross shelters and $2 million in support of the Hurricane Harvey Relief Fund at the Greater Houston Community Foundation, which was announced yesterday at a press briefing with Houston Mayor Sylvester Turner.

"Our Texas family of customers and associates are experiencing devastating impact from this storm," said Doug McMillon, President and CEO of Walmart. "We are on the ground to help our friends and neighbors in the Gulf region, and we'll continue to be in the tough days, weeks, and months ahead."

In the midst of the worst storm this region has ever seen, it is wonderful to see corporate partners such as Walmart step up and help Houstonians," said Mayor Sylvester Turner. "We are rebuilding and with these funds we will be able to help Houstonians return to normality. I would like to thank Walmart President and CEO, Doug McMillon for his generosity and challenge others to join in this effort."
