Subject: RE: Who paid for travel to see the president elect

On background: The governor has traveled to meet with the president-elect in New York once, and the cost of the governor's travel was covered by the Republican Governors Association and the Republican National Committee.

Subject: Who paid for travel to see the president elect

We are putting together a piece looking at those who are going in to talk to the President Elect in NY. Simple question: Who paid for the governor's travel to New York, and her stay in DC. In Oklahoma, it was the state. Other places, Trump. Others paid their own way.
