Use Volunteer Recruitment Tools for Older Americans Month

The "Got an Hour? Give it Back" Campaign offers materials that agencies can use to advertise the campaign. Among these materials include a series of customizable postcards, which agencies can use to fill in their programs and include their organization's logo. These are available to download or order hard copies for free.

The website has been experiencing technical difficulties processing orders. The Got an Hour? Campaign apologizes to anyone that has attempted to order postcards this week. There is currently a temporary order form on the site while the technical difficulties are being address. Please use this new form to order your free postcards.

The Got an Hour? Campaign has recently added a radio PSA that can be downloaded and shared with networks, local radio stations, or included on local organization's websites. The radio ad hopes to bring new prospective volunteers to the giveitbacktoseniors.org website to search for volunteer opportunities.

There site also offers a sample press release and letter to an elected official that agencies can use to get the word out about the campaign and to drive new volunteers for Older Americans Month.

Long-Term Care Services Report

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) released a report entitled "Long-Term Care Services in the United States: 2013 Overview" which presents the initial results of the National Study of Long-Term Care Providers (NSLTCP). The data comes from surveys of adult day care providers, long term residential care providers, and Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) records on nursing homes, home health agencies, and hospice providers. The study found that approximately eight million Americans received care services from about 58,000 paid providers in 2012, and the report breaks down the numbers of consumers utilizing various types of care providers. The report also includes information about size, ownership and staffing by region and type of care provider. In addition, it summarizes the demographics of those who use different types of care services.

Inquiries may be directed to SSA's toll-free number, 1-800-772-1213, Monday through Friday between 7:00 a.m. and 7:00 p.m. People who are deaf or hard of hearing may call SSA's toll-free TTY number, 1-800-325-0778.

- Older adults face a number of hurdles to adopting new technologies
- Physical challenges to using technology
- Skeptical attitudes about the benefits of technology
- Difficulties learning to use new technologies
