How's your calendar between 2 and 4 this Thursday to meet with Jeff Liebman from Harvard (at HHS)? Also, 11 on Friday is confirmed (for here). Thanks.

OK, how about 11AM Friday in the conference room here then? Rick Edwards is the guy from Third Sector Capital Management. I'll get back to you about Thursday...that would be Jeff Liebman from Harvard, and is probably in Tony's office. Thanks.

Got your mention. Know your busy with budget stuff. I happy to sit down with both groups you mentioned in voicemail.

At this point, I'm pretty open on Thursday. I already have a hold on my calendar at 11am on Friday.

Just let me know what the finalized times and locations are and who will be at the meetings. And sorry, but you just get me...CBT on furlough next week. Thanks.

Hey,

You have any interest in looking at potential uses for SIBs at DHEC? If so, there are folks coming to town late next week who you might want to meet with just to learn more. Lemme know...

Subject: SIB Lab announces competition winners

Dear Friends and Colleagues:

The Harvard Kennedy School's Social Impact Bond Technical Assistance Lab (SIB Lab) is pleased to announce the next six governments who will be receiving our technical assistance to develop pay-for-success contracts using social impact bonds (SIBs). These governments are:

- Colorado/Denver
- Connecticut
- Illinois
- New York
- Ohio
- South Carolina

They were selected in a national competition funded by The Rockefeller Foundation.
