How does this Friday afternoon look...or next Friday morning? Do either of those work on your end?

Thanks, this is helpful. Is there a time next week or the week after when we could get together? We're starting to pull together the FY 2013-14 Executive Budget, and I'm trying to organize my thinking about how we approach some of the early childhood issues.

Hello Christian,

Tim Ervolina mentioned your interest in learning more about the Strategic Development Council's Family Care Center project. I've attached a powerpoint that will give you general information on the Center's focus and what they intended to accomplish.

We operate under the following principles:

1. Shared investment, shared responsibility
2. Reinvestment in smarter strategies
3. Sustainable through state and federal funding (no grant monies for core program structures)
4. Use what we have, and do better with it.
5. Repurpose current assets

Thank you for your interest. Please contact me with any question or comments. I will make myself available should you want to meet and further discuss the project.

Best regards,
