My child's father was able to walk into her elementary school and get a copy of her school records which was everything in her file including information that was given by me and copies of government issued forms that provided and he hasn't lived with me since she was four months old and she is now 7 will be

8 in May. I asked the school to only give him copies of her report cards. I was told be the principal and superintendent that if he is the biological father it was a state law that he could have that information. He owes back child support and has been trying to get her social security number for years. I have already filed my taxes I am not worried about him using it for that purpose right now but future plans I do because he has asked me to let him claim her and i have refused several years. My concerns are that it was that easy for him to get this Information after I brought in a child support order that I have had for 7 years saying that I am the primary parent and it states that he was 99% proven he was the father so the school used that document as legal documentation for the grounds of him being able to receive the records. I dont understand why this was possible when I was present and asked for him to only get certain things given from her school chart. The principal said she could not pick and choose what she gave him. Is this a true law in South Carolina? Please contact me I really dont understand.

Ronnie Collins 136 Thistle Rd Springfield, SC 29146-9532 March 4, 2015 The Honorable Nikki R. Haley Governor of South Carolina 1205 Pendleton Street Columbia, SC 29201 Dear Governor Haley: Regarding Requiring Students to Pass a Civics Test before Graduating from High School, I'm in favor of legislation that would require students to pass a Civics test before they can graduate. I also think that they should be saying the pledge of allegiance every morning As a constituent of yours, I would like to know your thoughts on this issue. A proud member of National Write Your Congressman. Sincerely, Ronnie Collins 8036066099
