As we come to the end of the fiscal year I wanted to get the below information out because I have had many discussions in the last few months around employee safety and ways Verizon is working in this very important initiative.

With safety and peace of mind for employees being a focus of great importance, agencies across the nation are looking for ways to address the following:

- Improve worker safety with immediate notification to monitoring supervisors
- A mobile solution with panic button technology (alerting key individuals of the location via google maps to quickly provide assistance)
- Keeping workers in constant contact

Verizon has a proven solution that can address these important initiatives through our partnership with The Vestige Group. Let me know any questions that you have or if you would like to set up time to discuss.
