General Turner

You can announce rate ranges at the meeting this am. We are going to give you some suggested edits to the letter that will not change substance or implementation but just provide a little different wording. Nothing major. Will talk with you later today.

Thanks

Ted

Katherine,

Thanks for your note below. We welcome you to the meeting tomorrow. Earlier today I stopped in to brief Ted on an issue that has a direct impact on publishing the new tax rates. We will not have the new tax rates in time for the SCMA meeting tomorrow, unless we get approval to move forward with the information presented today. The decision was mine to delay the tax rates until I had an opportunity to brief Ted on the issues at hand. This decision was based on the ongoing DOR issue with hacked accounts and the impending recent elections.

Both Laura and Erica will be at the event and I am sure that they will be able to address any questions presented by the SCMA participants. If we get an answer back from Ted early enough on the packet I left him today, we will be able adjust our presentation to discuss the rates.

As always, I am available to address any additional concerns.

By the way, thanks for contacting me on this. "Direct communication is always good; and sometimes, it's the best way to get things done to the expected standards." - Turner

Take care.

Abe Turner

General,

Sara Hazzard has asked me to attend tomorrow's SCMA meeting.

Per our conversation they were disappointed to learn today (the day before the meeting)that the tax rates will not be available for this meeting. This meeting was planned because Laura indicated that the rates would be out the first of November.

In lieu of the rates not being available they have asked that Laura and Erica discuss the following:

- ☐ ☐ Step-by-step explanation of the process for how and when the rates are calculated and released.
- ☐ ☐ How and when companies are notified what their new rates will be.

Thank you,
Katherine
