- 2) "The state agency, which compiled hospital financial data in an easy-to-find format last year, now has done the same with information from the state's 17 federally qualified health centers. It's all available at shealthdata.org. The update 'is another step in the ongoing conversation about how we deliver and pay for care in South Carolina and across the country,' said Tony Keck, director of the state agency."
