OK, that should take it down some.

Thanks. I'll wait on the new round.

Each application has about 10-12 pages. There are a lot of applications.

Loriann was supposed to do the initial screening for those that met the qualifications and then forward, however; she didn't do so.

I asked her to go back and screen based on the minimum regs like we normally do. Then, she sends it to the hiring manager. This will help weed out some.

Thanks,
Cheryl

Are there hundreds of pages in each cache? Am I seeing this right?
