Les & Debra,

Here's our first full run-through for next year's provisos. Cells in green are "soft decisions," which is to say we're 90% confident that those cells will appear in the FY 2014-15 budget as they are marked now. Cells in red are still being held open, either because we have more research to do, or because we just haven't made a firm enough decision yet.

And thanks again on the info on P84.8 yesterday.
