Haley to visit Georgetown on state tour

From staff reports

Gov. Nikki Haley will make a visit to Georgetown this week as part of a statewide tour aimed at flood relief and disaster mitigation.

Haley is scheduled to visit Beck Recreation Center, 2030 Church St., on Friday, Oct. 30, between 10 a.m.-2 p.m. as part of the Team South Carolina for Georgetown and Horry Counties event.

Georgetown. "We certainly welcome this ... level of support

County Administrator Sel Hemingway said he was appreciative of Haley's consideration and was eager to welcome her to Georgetown. "We certainly welcome this ... level of support from the governor's office and the state," Hemingway said. "I look forward to greeting the governor and would certainly urge any resident who has suffered losses as a result of flooding to take advantage of this wonderful opportunity."

The event is aimed at providing flood-affected residents with an opportunity to discuss and receive assistance with officials from myriad state and federal agencies.

In addition to Haley, representatives from the Federal Emergency Management Agency, U.S. Small Business Administration, U.S. Department of Agriculture Farm Service Agency, and the state departments of Employment and Workforce, Social Services, Mental Health, Health and Human Services, Insurance and Health and Environmental Control will be present to offer an array of relief options.
