Governor Nikki R. Haley
1205 Pendleton Street
Columbia, SC 29201

Dear Governor Haley:

The cities, counties and State of South Carolina are plagued by roadway potholes.

A solution presents itself. Non-violent county and state prisoners properly trained could be applied to repairing potholes.

The prisoners doing this work would be awarded one additional day of time served for each day worked.

Any serious infraction of the list of infractions in the contract with the prisoner would result in cancellation of a number of days earned.

The proper methods of repair must be taught and strictly followed.

I refer you to the following web sites:

1. Pothole repair in asphalt concrete pavement.
2. How to make permanent pothole repairs with Quicke.

It must be noted that simply filling a pothole with asphalt without having vertical edges is a waste of time and material.

The prisoners engaged in this program will gain experience in a useful and continuing required trade.

Sincerely,

Robert C. Middaugh, Jr.
