Good morning,

Scott received information about this award program (see attached) and would like to encourage you all to apply. The goal of this national program is to highlight innovative executive branch programs that might be useful to other states as well. Winners will be highlighted in a variety of publications.

Please let me know if the attachment isn't clear enough and I'll send you a copy, however it looks like the important information can be found on their website at www.csg.org/programs/innov/apply.aspx.

Thank you,

Kristi
