Subject: MSNBC's Chris Hayes request to interview Gov. Haley tonight, Thursday, June 18, during the 8p ET hour

Hi Chaney,

I just left you a message on your cell phone. MSNBC's Chris Hayes is headed to Charleston as we speak to anchor his program from there tonight, Thursday, June 18, during the 8p ET hour. Is there any chance at all that Gov. Haley might be willing to join Chris on his program tonight? This would be for a LIVE interview, one-on-one, for about five to seven minutes. Chris will be anchoring from a camera location in Charleston. We could accommodate Gov. Haley from that camera location if she happens to be in Charleston. If not, we could accommodate her from a studio near wherever she will be tonight, and have her join Chris via satellite. We'd also be happy to send a crew to her if that's easier. I'll be able to give you the exact hit time of the interview by around 2:30 p.m. ET today.

Thanks Chaney!

Regards,
Sheara Braun
