

From: Soura, Christian
To: Mayer, DougDougMayer@gov.sc.gov
Date: 2/14/2013 12:39:53 PM
Subject: Re: Backgrounder - Add 2

I'd probably take his modified version, but instead lead off with, "We have about 1,000 bridges in South Carolina that are structurally..."

CLS

From: Mayer, Doug
Sent: Thursday, February 14, 2013 12:24 PM
To: Soura, Christian
Subject: Fw: Backgrounder - Add 2

Christian, you OK with this?

Thanks

From: Poore, Peter [mailto:PooreJP@dot.state.sc.us]
Sent: Thursday, February 14, 2013 12:21 PM
To: Mayer, Doug
Subject: FW: Backgrounder - Add 2

Doug,
Just from a standpoint of accuracy, it has been suggested to me that this statement should be used.
Over to you...
Pete

The load restricted number is included in the structurally deficient and functionally obsolete categories. A more accurate statement would be "Almost 1,000 bridges in SC are structurally deficient, with more than 400 of those being load-restricted." Instead of his statement of "More than 1,000 bridges in SC are either load-restricted or are structurally deficient"