Subject: RE: Y'all ready for this?

P.S. for Guvnah Haley and All:

In case anyone may wonder why the First Amendment to the Constitution of the United States of America is quoted below, consider this:

Several of the issues described and discussed in my letter to the Governor of the State of South Carolina and many other documents submitted to the Executive and Legislative branches of South Carolina government over the past two years become federal civil rights issues under the United States Constitution, having been addressed to no avail with the State of South Carolina Governor and Legislature as well-supported and documented grievances. Litigation through the South Carolina court system is not necessarily required for certain matters; fortunately, these are the gateway matters for a number of interrelated matters within the State's sovereign purview.

So, all may expect to see civil rights violations by abuse of government power as an emerging theme - and not limited to gross and willful violations of my civil rights, alone.

Now, Guvnah Haley, you can expect I will henceforth treat you with respect equal to or greater than your treatment of me and of the members of Kestrel Horizons. You have set the bar very low, indeed.

Will Stephens

William A. Stephens, P.E.

P.S. My guess is that members of this South Carolina Governor's "Administration" (as Special Agent Kristina Gainey referred to it on January 25, 2016) have about as much grasp on and fidelity to the provisions of United States Constitution as do Donald Trump, Barack Obama, and Hillary Clinton. Lessons to follow.

P.P.S. For the dozens of individuals who receive these messages, please be assured that your names and email addresses are not provided to the government officials, members and institutions of the press, and other entities, as your names are included on the "Bcc" line. Guvnah Haley and All:

The First Amendment to the Constitution of the United States of America as adopted in 1791 reads as follows:

Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances.

Where an excess of power prevails, property of no sort is duly respected. No man is safe in his opinions, his person, his faculties, or his possessions.

Few people are capable of expressing with equanimity opinions which differ from the prejudices of their social environment. Most people are even incapable of forming such opinions.

Honorable Governor Haley and General Counsel Pisarik – The time is now 1:30 PM Tuesday, August 2, 2016. Just reached your bank of the Rubicon. Sorry to be an 90 minutes late. Was doing some earth moving and got the loader stuck in muck.

Thank you for reading and considering whatever you read and considered. You should now have a more complete foundational understanding of the history, the contestants, and the conflicts to play out. The die is cast. See you in Rome – or in the funny papers.

Governor and All - No further discussion seems warranted. I would be happy to explain anything you have received or will receive so that you may fully understand the facts and my professional analysis, ideas, and opinions. As always, I will be happy to explain and answer any questions you may have with regard to the service of Kestrel Horizons, LLC as Trustee of the Pinewood Site Custodial Trust. I will forever be very proud of Kestrel's work and service to the citizens of South Carolina. I've got my new hat on snugly and a bunch of old, torn and tattered ones in a bag – just in case. Always good to have extras.

Next up: Dirty Stories – Volume 1, Dirty Shorts, and rubiconpartyofone.us. Will give you courtesy heads up when pieces become available and are posted or published.

Kindest Regards,

Will Stephens

Subject: RE: Letter to Governor Nikki Haley.

Governor Haley:

(by way of Governor's General Counsel Holly Pisarik, Esq.)

By now several folks in the Governor's Office have read my July 25, 2016 letter to you, and a number of phone calls have been made. A few meetings have been had. And a few strategies have been discussed.

Some answers to questions you may have:

1. No, I haven't yet distributed it to parties outside South Carolina – except for family members and friends.
2. Yes. I named names of folks who are no longer with state government or never have been – as well as non-governmental entities, e.g.:
 - Catherine Templeton
 - Elizabeth Dieck
 - The McNair Law Firm
 - Special Receivers to federal Judge G. Ross Anderson, William “Billy” Wilkins and Leon Harmon
 - Schlumberger
 - Arcadis
3. No. I do not fear what those folks or South Carolina Government folks may try to do to me – including especially any sort of legal horse puckey of whatever variety. I believe all parties identified already realize I have had two years to work on documentation and packages – and that those packages will be released by others who have already been retained to distribute the documents to specific recipients and post web structures in planned sequences should an ambush or coordinated attack occur (as it did July 25, 2014) or some ill fate befall me. If anyone has not yet figured that out, I guess the cat is now out of the bag. These folks all know what they have done and I would think each would understand that Whack-A-Mole begins with the first mole to pop its head up.
4. Yes. I have sent Ms. Pisarik a dozen pieces to illustrate the variety of people, places, and things that are a part of rubiconpartyofone.us (and .info, .org, .com, and .me.) The purpose of sending that to your attention, Governor, is to give you an idea of the range of folks who might visit rubiconpartyofone.us. With sham RNC and DNC Conventions officially completed tomorrow – and Presidential candidates for both parties being despicable to well over half the adults in the nation – I’m thinking rubiconpartyofone.us will become quite popular in the months and years to come.

Here’s a new piece of information to some:

I have been writing books for the past two years. The pieces to be included in rubiconpartyofone.us are reference documents for the book chapters. More than seventy-five pieces and documents addressing government, politics, and national issues have already been provided to national media outlets over the past year. Classic market development.

Now the publishing method is new – a book in digital and paper form with an entire body of information available on a web site to enable the reader to learn more – at no cost. Here’s an email to 100+ folks from February providing a preview. Dirty Stories is actually a series of books – some of which contain multiple stories. The first three stories are ready for release as a single book.

Dirty Stories

By Will Stephens

Dedication (main points)

- Dedicated to my family and lifelong friends.
- And to the many people who have said, “You should write a book.”

Preface (main points)

- “Dirty Stories” comes from my work in investigating, engineering, cleaning up, managing, and fighting over contaminated lands.
- Stories from my personal experiences over 40 years – 1975-2015.
- Many of the stories – even the ones based on very serious situations – have truly comical and ridiculous sidelights. Some stories are truly disturbing and reveal behavior that is certainly unethical and bordering on criminal. Some way over the border.
- I have drawn on a large body of written documentation – much of it in the public domain. I know that because I put it there.
- Nobody could make this stuff up – or would need to. Truth really is stranger than fiction.

- Last names are generally not used. First names are sometimes altered.
- When actual names of people and organizations are used, the facts associated with those names are readily verifiable in written records.
- If anyone named chooses to challenge my facts, integrity, or resolve, I ask that he, she, or they please step out of the shadows for a compelling demonstration.
- If anyone thinks a story might be “outing” him or her in a bad light, my advice to that person is to “keep your mouth shut and your head down” rather than confirm the identities of those involved. Maybe when you get to the point in life I am, you can tell your family and friends, “That was me.” Or maybe not.
- I want to give a special shout out to the following people and entities that inspired me to write this book (in more-or-less alphabetical order):

⊕ The Elected Officials of the City of Detroit in 1986

⊕ Elizabeth Dieck, Esq.

Epilogue: The Anatomy of Conspiracy

Governor, I thought you might be interested in a few motivational pieces:

From my September 25, 2014 letter to then-Director Catherine Templeton:

“And just in case you encounter any politicians who want to frame me, please give them the retouched photo on the right – not the original on the left:”

“No matter what else happens, I will not lose my sense of humor. Or my commitment to the citizens of South Carolina. We didn't move the ball this far to give up now.”

My Personal Symbol of Faith:

And a few favorite verses:

Mark 8:34 and 8:35

"³⁴And when He had called the people unto Him with His disciples also, He said unto them, "Whosoever will come after Me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow Me. ³⁵For whosoever will save his life shall lose it; but whosoever shall lose his life for my sake and the gospel's, the same shall save it."

1 Samuel 40 – 51

"⁴⁸As the Philistine moved closer to attack him, David ran quickly toward the battle line to meet him. ⁴⁹ Reaching into his bag and taking out a stone, he slung it and struck the Philistine on the forehead. The stone sank into his forehead, and he fell facedown on the ground."

"⁵⁰So David triumphed over the Philistine with a sling and a stone; without a sword in his hand he struck down the Philistine and killed him. ⁵¹ David ran and stood over him. He took hold of the Philistine's sword and drew it from the sheath. After he killed him, he cut off his head with the sword."

23 A Psalm of David.

¹The Lord is my shepherd;
I shall not want.

² He makes me to lie down in green pastures;
He leads me beside the still waters.

³ He restores my soul;
He leads me in the paths of righteousness
For His name's sake.

⁴ Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death,
I will fear no evil;
For You are with me;
Your rod and Your staff, they comfort me.

⁵ You prepare a table before me in the presence of my enemies;
You anoint my head with oil;
My cup runs over.

⁶ Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me
All the days of my life;
And I will dwell in the house of the Lord
Forever

Governor, I fully recognize most of this is nonsense to you. That doesn't matter to me at all. The acts of South Carolina elected officials and government managers have been nonsense to me – not to mention despicable, unethical, irresponsible, malicious, and in many cases illegal.

My reputation and my legacy are important to me and to my family and friends. I cannot and will not abide anyone impugning my integrity or denigrating my life's work.

What matters are the final results at this point. Sometimes "All's well that ends well..." is the best anyone can hope for.

I would appreciate your answer regarding your willingness to meet, Governor, by noon on Tuesday, August 2. I have a schedule to keep.

RSVP.

Best Regards,

Will Stephens
