In case you missed it. @HuntingIslandSP day use reopens in limited capacity today, July 24: pic.twitter.com/TPvSsRDCns

Hunting Island State Park day-use area will open on a limited basis on Friday, July 24. The North Beach area, near the lighthouse, will be open and can accommodate approximately 200 vehicles. The South Beach area will remain closed as roads leading to South Beach remain flooded. Most trails are still closed and the lighthouse will also be closed to visitors. The Nature Center will be open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday. Campers will be allowed into the campground. Traffic patterns will be altered, so we ask that you please drive slowly and pay attention to signage and park rangers stationed throughout the park. The park will fill up early and wait times will be long. We appreciate your patience and understanding.
