With things starting to warm up a bit and spring on the horizon, its got me thinking about camping. I know you are too! So, the question is -- Tent or RV camping? And depending on which you choose.....why? Tell us!

Jay Moore How about the best of both, pop-up camping!

at 16:00:36 on 3/15/2010 UTC

Elaine Whitaker RV camping I like my bathroom closer,going this weekend to wateree State park. can't wait

at 16:06:08 on 3/15/2010 UTC

Bobbie McAfee Haga Kliewer Strictly an RV gal!

at 16:06:17 on 3/15/2010 UTC

Nancy Golini Bilton Popup

at 16:09:36 on 3/15/2010 UTC

Mary Anne Robertson just upgraded this year to upright camper

at 16:10:54 on 3/15/2010 UTC

Jim Lynch Tent. Easier to carry, easier to get in your car and go places around the park.

at 16:13:04 on 3/15/2010 UTC

John E. Lee Tent easier to pack in and out, besides a tent makes you feel more like you're outdoors.

at 16:14:05 on 3/15/2010 UTC

Leslie Fredrickson Whitcomb don't own an RV so I think tent camping is great - am ready go!!! Love campfire meals too.

at 16:15:38 on 3/15/2010 UTC

Miranda Alexander tent... I agree with John E Lee - easier & you feel more outdoors! :)

at 16:19:47 on 3/15/2010 UTC

Daylin Torricella Silber Tent, that's real camping!

at 16:31:56 on 3/15/2010 UTC

Tina Fussell tent, but only b/c we can't afford to buy an rv.

at 16:41:14 on 3/15/2010 UTC

Ann Birdie Hammond RV all the way!! Must have my shower and bathroom!

at 17:08:25 on 3/15/2010 UTC

Jean Jones RV camping - too old to tent camp - going to Lake Hartwell State Park Thursday til Sunday - Hope weather is good.

at 17:09:58 on 3/15/2010 UTC

Bonnie Hughes Hamm RV!!

at 17:14:35 on 3/15/2010 UTC

Josie Price RV camping. Awning bathroom bed bathtub cabinets fridge television (for the kids) heat air conditioning close to the family AND the great outdoors! The best of both worlds.

at 17:15:45 on 3/15/2010 UTC

Shirley M. Purcell RV "camping" is not camping!

at 17:17:55 on 3/15/2010 UTC

Ernest Everett Blevins Tent, if I decide to go in luxury or its raining. Mostly under the stars.

at 17:17:58 on 3/15/2010 UTC

Michele White RV, I am too old to sleep on the ground, had enough of that when I was younger.

at 17:32:12 on 3/15/2010 UTC

Patience Lynn Gilley Tent this weekend at Collection state park... Yay.

at 17:37:07 on 3/15/2010 UTC

Brenda Carder Counts Went tent camping a lot...then when we had twins we got a flooded tent in a downpour. Not fun when two 3 year olds are wet (along with everything else). Came home and bought a pop-up camper. That was 20 years ago and it was the best money we ever spent. We are still using it numerous times a year. It's great to listen to the rain OUTSIDE while we are dry inside!!!

at 17:59:06 on 3/15/2010 UTC

David Williams Tent because of reasons already listed. however if I had the $$$ to buy a small RV I could likely be talked into it.

at 18:03:00 on 3/15/2010 UTC

Dawn Watson Weaver Tent camping!

at 18:15:04 on 3/15/2010 UTC

Maria White Bennett rv-too old to sleep on the ground!

at 18:15:38 on 3/15/2010 UTC

Laura Howard Sturgeon pop up! Too old for tent, so it's the perfect next step up.

at 18:37:47 on 3/15/2010 UTC

Bryn Harmer Tent, just bought a new one yesterday. Can't wait to break it in. Would like to upgrade to a pop-up someday though...

at 20:55:17 on 3/15/2010 UTC

Barbara Jordan RV, I have graduated. I progressed from tent--> pop-up--> C class--> Class A -gasoline. The next step is diesel. Love it!!! Big Gamecock Fan and State Park Fan, both dry camping and plug in!!!

at 20:56:04 on 3/15/2010 UTC

Donnie Auman We love our 5th wheel. We did start with a tent. Too old to sleep on the ground anymore. We are eager to go.

at 21:27:37 on 3/15/2010 UTC

Jennifer Smith Haig Depends on time and money, quick trips in nice weather we tent, if it's really hot or cold our 18ft trailer is the way to go

at 23:39:50 on 3/15/2010 UTC

Sarah Jane Byars We did tents for years until we were on a long trip and had 5 straight days of downpour. We moved up to a tiny 13' Scamp just enough to get us out of the elements. Heading out to Colleton State Park this weekend with our friends! We've camped at all but 2 SC parks. We've gone to a different one each Fall and Spring since '94. Great way to see the state and enjoy the wonderful variety!

Ken Kirkley After a tent camping trip to St. Augustine several years ago we now do RV camping. It was a loong night and day of thunderstorms and heat that did us in. Not to mention...we "ain't" as young as we used to be! lol

Robin Rudd started with a tent, then went pop-up, now in pull behind trailer rv. Just too old and set in my ways to sleep outdoors lol
at 5:19:46 on 3/16/2010 UTC

Lois Stacey Tent always! I like being able to see the stars and hear the sounds of the night.
at 5:21:04 on 3/16/2010 UTC

Uma Kaufman Like alot of folks here, started in a tent with the family.....loved it, then as the years past got a 5th wheel, our bodies can't take laying on the ground. Yes it does limit places we can go but when it rains, it's wonderful hearing it, NOT feeling it.
