

From: The Duke Endowment <dzilberdrut=tde.org@mail248.atl171.mcdlv.net> on behalf of The Duke Endowment <dzilberdrut@tde.org>
Sent: Tuesday, January 24, 2017 9:01 AM
To: Haley, Nikki
Subject: The Duke Endowment - Legacy at Work: Winter 2017

View this email in your browser

Right-click here to download pictures. To help protect your privacy, Outlook prevented automatic download of this picture from the Internet.

NEWS FROM THE DUKE ENDOWMENT

WINTER 2017

Right-click here to download pictures. To help protect your privacy, Outlook prevented automatic download of this picture from the Internet.

RURAL CHURCH

COMING TOGETHER TO FIGHT HUNGER

As project director for Come to the Table in North Carolina, Tahz Walker works to connect congregations and farmers to boost local agriculture and relieve hunger in their communities.

HIGHER EDUCATION

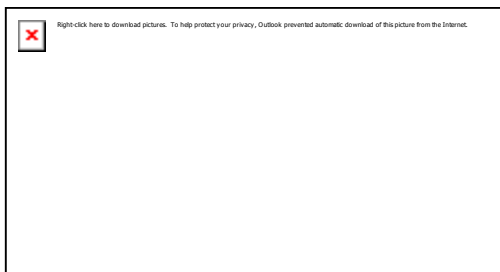

Right-click here to download pictures. To help protect your privacy, Outlook prevented automatic download of this picture from the Internet.

PLANNING FOR A WORLD FOOD POLICY CENTER

Kelly Brownell, dean of the Sanford School of Public Policy at Duke University, says a new center could address critical food system issues and challenges.

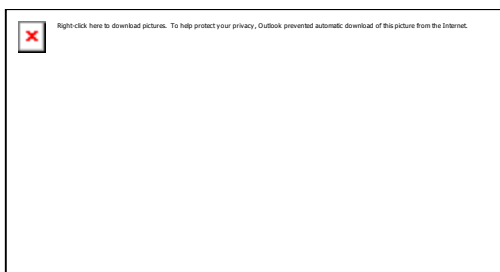

HEALTH CARE

CARING FOR PEOPLE WITH SICKLE CELL DISEASE

In South Carolina, people living with sickle cell disease hope a new program will pave the way to improved, comprehensive services.

CHILD CARE

CREATING A SYSTEM TO KEEP CHILDREN SAFER

A promising new tool that uses predictive analytics to help social workers do their jobs is putting the Department of Social Services in New Hanover County, N.C., on the cutting edge of child welfare.

STAY CONNECTED

Copyright © 2017 The Duke Endowment. All rights reserved.

Our mailing address is:

The Duke Endowment
800 E. Morehead Street
Charlotte, North Carolina 28202

Add us to your address book

unsubscribe from this list update subscription preferences