Dear Board members:

Attached is a mid-month report.

Interestingly, our North Carolina REAL ID grant concept, which was shot down by the National Governors Association, is now back in play, this time supported by NGA. Shakespeare had it right in Hamlet, except for a minor typo - it should have read, "To sleep: perchance to dream: aye, there's the hub."

PS - due to a problem we are having with emails to multiple recipients, I've requested a delivery receipt for this message, to ensure that you receive it.

Best regards,

Neil
