Dear Rob,

You are very welcome! We'll definitely be in touch in the coming days and weeks. I'll be your point person for edit matters (photography, etc.) and Kerri Chyka, cc'd, can provide more info on the event as well as pr details on the rollout. We have a great tradition of U.S. leaders attending the gala—in recent years, we've hosted Scott Walker, Rand Paul, Chris Christie, Kirsten Gillibrand, Elizabeth Warren and Sarah Palin, among others—and it would be an honor to have Governor Haley there. She really has had an amazing year.

Yours,
Radhika

Radhika,

Thank you very much for reaching out.

And, it goes without saying, that we're honored to see the magazine recognizing the governor's work.

I'll make sure to get this invitation and background in front of the governor as soon as possible.

Please don't hesitate to let us know, in the days ahead, if there is anything y'all need from us. Would love to talk to you or anyone on your team about the rollout of TIME's list.

Again, thank you for the note and for thinking of the governor.

Dear Governor Haley,

On behalf of Nancy Gibbs and the editors of TIME, I'm pleased to let you know that you've been selected for the 2016 TIME 100, our annual list of the hundred most influential people in the world. The TIME 100 issue, containing the full list, hits newsstands and tablets on Friday, April 22.

As a member of the TIME 100, you are invited to join us for the annual TIME 100 Gala on Tuesday, April 26, 2016, at Jazz at Lincoln Center in New York City. This intimate black tie dinner of 300 people—including many current and former TIME 100 members—brings together the world's leading figures in politics, technology, science, philanthropy, media, business and entertainment and attracts worldwide media coverage.

Last year's gala featured performances by Kanye West and Tim McGraw. Previous keynote speakers include Vice President Joe Biden, First Lady Michelle Obama, Secretary of State Hillary Clinton, and President Bill Clinton. Past performers include Prince, Rihanna, Taylor Swift, Bruno Mars, Carrie Underwood, John Legend and Stephen Colbert. Previous guests have included Emma Watson, Justin Timberlake, Oprah Winfrey, Amy Schumer, Elizabeth Warren, Ehud Barak, George Lucas, John Green, Tilda Swinton, Jorge Ramos, Stella McCartney, Alfonso Cuarón, Misty Copeland, Elon Musk and Lena Dunham, as well as activists and thinkers who are making a difference in the world, whether fighting for human rights or seeking a cure for cancer.

We will reveal the full 2016 list on TIME.com on April 21, and we'd be grateful if you could keep the news confidential until then. If you'd like to coordinate a joint announcement at that time our press office will be happy to assist you.

For now, please save the date, and our VP of Communications, Kerri Chyka (kerri_chyka@timeinc.com), will be in touch with further details about the gala.

We look forward to seeing you in April.

Best wishes,

Radhika Jones
