GOING CAMPING? If you find yourself not being able to sleep in the wee hours of the night, get up and head out of your tent or RV and watch for Perseid meteors! The shower's peak was last night, but there should still be some meteors to see tonight. State Parks in dark sky areas without much light pollution are your best bets for seeing a few meteors. Don't forget to make your wishes on those "falling stars"!!! For viewing tips try:
