<MSG>

First, this message is sent in love, not hatred or judgement. I our family is here in St. Louis, MO. V Charleston in the summer and during Christmas. My mother and Dad discovered Charleston while stationed in Fort Benning, GA during the Korean War. A long time and a great deal of money of o been spent in your state. Mother and I are praying for the healing that you told the CBS Morning S responsible for making happen. Our question is: How can there be healing with a flag flown proud Capital that represents enslavement and racial hatred? Representing what Mr. Roof believed he nee enforce. Flying the Confederate flag is a slap in the face to the families of those murdered. Please l understand why we should continue to spend money in your state whilst the flag representing ensla racial disparity reminds the world what/why Mr. Roof murdered nine people.

Sincerely and with sorrow.

Governor Haley:

Like you, I am Indian, and stand in solidarity with all groups that are the victims of violent prejudice. I hope that you will reverse your stated support of the confederate flag displayed in the ground house in Columbia. The Charleston terrorist attack is evidence that anti-black racial hatred is thriving in this state, as in too much of the rest of the country, and your continued support for this symbol of racism is unconscionable. Please stand unambiguously with your black constituents and against racism, and the confederate flag.

Dear Governor Haley,

I am South Asian American. I live in Washington, DC. I was outraged, saddened by the violence in hear you have defended the display of the Confederate flag, but as a symbol of the Confederacy, w and fought in order to keep black people enslaved. this is the time to take down the flag and replac symbol of unity across colorlines and lines of any other kind of segregation of South Carolina resic symbol of racist ideology that thsi country no longer needs as a visible reminder of the hurts of rac black people have been targeted in this nation for hundreds of years, and still the cultural vestiges remain, as black people continue to die at the hands of gun violence, police brutality, and domestic

As South Asians it is important for us to take a stand here. I hope you will join in this critical mom part of history and all eyes are on South Carolina right now. You have a chance to step into the gre rights heroes before us, who created a foundation upon which we as South Asians stand today, tha what built the ladder upon which you could be Governor today. That is a stance against racism, yo governorship says to people, we too belong as members of society in the United States. As an ode and as a stance of true justice, take down the flag.

That alone is not enough to deal with this brutality. But it is one symbolic step towards the true vis democracy that our Founding Fathers attempted to hold. It is our job to make that democracy a rea everyone.

Sincerely,

Anu

I live in another state. I am from Texas where I lived for 70 years. There is too much hate and racism in this country. I am 77 years old and have lived through much of the civil rights problems. It is past time to put it together. Take down the confederate flag! If you can do one thing to help our nation heal, that one thing is important.

Please do everything possible to remove the flag. The civil war is over! We need to get past this painful history. I had many ancestors who fought for the south. I am not proud of what they did. I am proud of my Quaker ancestry.

Thank you,

<SUBJECT>Confederate flag at Capitol</SUBJECT>

<MSG>

Dear Governor Haley,

As a resident of Charleston, SC, in the wake of the horrific murders at the Emmanuel AME Church, I strongly urge you to remove the Confederate flag from the State Capitol grounds. While some may argue that the flag symbolizes "heritage" above all, this is simply not a valid reason to continue flying it above the Capitol.

Please consider this statement from Alexander Stephens in 1861, speaking about the foundation of the Confederacy: "Our new government is founded...upon the great truth that the negro is not equal to the white man; that slavery subordination to the superior race is his natural and normal condition. This, our government, is the first, in the history of the world, based upon this great physical, philosophical, and moral truth."

I grew up in the South, and have chosen South Carolina as the place where I will settle and start my family. I cannot imagine raising my children in a place where the government--no matter how indirectly--is based on an offensive "moral truth" as described above.

Again, I urge you to remove the Confederate Flag from the Capitol, so that our state and nation can be based on genuine equality and love, rather than continued division and hate.

As a U.S citizen I am utterly appalled at the lack of ethical intervenement after the massacre that o your state. Dylan Roof embraced the Confederate flag and the ideologies of white supremacists. H black community in an unspeakable way. By flying such a flag, you are continually reminding the American residents of your state of the horrors their ancestors faced, and the challenges they conti a result. Therefore I urge you to take down the Confederate flag that flies above the Capitol buildin appropriate and ethical after the act of terror that has occurred.

Hi,

I find it morally reprehensible, incomprehensible, and in the light of recent events, inhumane, that Confederate flag still flies on the statehouse grounds in Columbia. I remember reading about this i of years ago, and imagined that this blot on the state of South Carolina's image and reputation had corrected. As a United States citizen, I am outraged that this image of hate and degradation is still freely fly on government property.

Sincerely,

Seth [REDACTED]

Governor Haley.

I, like many in our country, am deeply saddened and heartbroken about the recent events at Mother Charleston. I cannot imagine what it must feel like in your role as governor, but I want you to know are with you and your constituents. As a pastor, I am especially affected by the violation of sanctua racist, terrorist actions of the young man who took the lives of nine of your state's community merr writing to urge you and your colleagues to take down the confederate flag which flies over the state understand the history of South Carolina, but that flag is a reminder of oppression and slavery, a re the African American people in your community that there was a time when the state where they li keep them from being human--fought to keep them as slaves. I know the streets named after confec generals in Charleston cannot be changed as swiftly, but I hope the movement toward change in yo begin with the simple lowering of the flag which flies over the statehouse. Again, my prayers and t your community. Now, it's time for us to get to work.

Gov. Hailey. Very touching display of sadness on behalf of the 9 black folk gunned down by this racist murderer. Wouldn't it be a wonderful gesture on behalf of all the black folk in your state to drop the flag and burn it! It represents hate and racism. I'm from the south. I love the south. but its time to n except this fact on behalf of all African Americans. The confederate flag represents pain and suffer folk.

I am writing as a citezen of these United States to request that the confederate flag be removed from buildings and properties. It is a symbol of oppression, slavery, hatred, and violence against Africar and all minorities. While the state's decision to fly this oppressive symbol did not directly cause the massacre in Charleston, it indeed gives legitimacy (intended or not) to the sick ideologies that drove murderer and others who would carry out such crimes of hatred and violence. That the office of the would allow this flag to be displayed with pride is ethically and morally indefensible. Take it down of decency and beginning the long road to healing what is a terrible and deep wound in this countr down. Deny its legitimacy and its power. Take it down.

Governor Haley.

Rather than asking for death penalty for latest mass shooter how about

LOWERING THE CONFEDERATE FLAG TO HALFMAST (pulley or no). That would say and mean so much more than your sound bites. Show some spine.

I was born in SC in 1970 and have always loved my home state. I moved away in 1996 but my entire life is there (York Co). Isn't it time to end the flying of the confederate flag on the state grounds? I have always been proud of being a "Sand Lapper" (I can still sing the song I learned in elementary school). To be honest, I am kind of ashamed at the moment of my home state of SC.

Sincerely,

Charles [REDACTED]

<SUBJECT>Flag at Jasper County DMV</SUBJECT>

<MSG>

Good Morning

In the aftermath of the shooting in Charleston, flags across the State of South Carolina are lowered. Clementa Pinckney was a Senator and Resident of Jasper County. My question is why is there no flag at the Jasper County DMV to be lowered. This is a state office, employing state workers, is a Troop Highway Patrol, but in front of the building is nothing. I have personally never paid attention to other offices, however if there is not flags/flag poles at each office, I find this to be a problem that needs corrected.

Thanks

Your excellency.

The confederate flag needs to come down. It is insensitive and disrespectful to have it flying at all. In the events of this week you should have more respect for the people that died and their families. It is not your decision alone to let it fly...but maybe it needs to start with you. It shouldn't matter that you never had a CEO discuss the flag. You represent the people that elected you.

South Carolina Governor Gets Called Out For Cowardly Confederate Flag Defense

One viral Facebook comment perfectly summed up the outrage many are feeling.

By Zaid Jilani / AlterNet

June 19, 2015

Following the tragic mass killing in Charleston, one figure many have turned to for leadership is the Republican governor, Nikki Haley. She has not provided that leadership.

Her initial comment on the shooting eluded the racism explanation altogether, leading one of her critics to condemn her remarks in a Facebook post that went viral:

This morning, Haley appeared on CBS Morning News and was asked if it is finally time for the state to adorn government buildings with the Confederate Flag. Haley dodged the question, refusing to give personal opinion, and seemed to imply that a debate over the flag would be too traumatizing for her constituents.

HOST: There are also calls today that you have to take the Confederate flag down from the state capitol. How do you address those calls?

HALEY: I think that...at a time like this, you have to look back at what we've done. Fifteen years ago, we were a state that was founded on the principles of liberty and justice for all. And we have a responsibility to our citizens to ensure that we are living up to those principles.

together on a consensus to bring the Confederate flag down off of the dome. And they put it on a map in front. I think that conversation will probably come back up again. And you what we hope that we the way South Carolinians do. Which is have the conversation, allow some thoughtful words to be said kind about it. Come together on what we're trying to achieve and how we're trying to do it. I think that start talking about that again. We'll see where it goes. What I will tell you right now, is while a lot of come up, my job as governor is to bring everybody back together again. [...]

HOST: But what's your position on the issue?

HALEY: You know, right now, to start having policy conversations with the people of South Carolina understand that's what ya'll want, my job is to heal the people of this state. We had a 26 year-old that graduated college. We had anywhere from a 26 year-old to an 87 year-old grandmother. You had a coach. You had a librarian. This is very real to us. [...] There will be policy discussions and you will come out and talk about it. But right now, I'm not doing that to the people of my state.

Haley did however appear to be willing to make one policy decision – calling on the suspect charged with shooting to be executed.

The governor's lack of leadership is in stark contrast to one state west – Georgia. There, Governor Roy Harris (D) in 1992 called for changing the Georgia flag so it no longer reflected the Confederate symbol. "The flag is a last remaining vestige of days that are not only gone but also days that we have no right to he said at the time. "We need to lay the days of segregation to rest, to let bygones be bygones and move forward. We need to do what is right." Although the flag was not changed until 2001, Miller's call 23 years ago that a governor even in a deep southern state can lead on the issue if they choose to.

Haley's avoidance of the issue of racism altogether eludes the elephant in the room. Compare her view of the Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr., who spoke after the 1963 Birmingham church bombing:

And yet they died nobly. They are the martyred heroines of a holy crusade for freedom and human rights so this afternoon in a real sense they have something to say to each of us in their death. They have something to say to every minister of the gospel who has remained silent behind the safe security of stained-glass windows. They have something to say to every politician [Audience:] (Yeah) who has fed his constituents with bread of hatred and the spoiled meat of racism. They have something to say to a federal government compromised with the undemocratic practices of southern Dixiecrats (Yeah) and the blatant hypocrisy of wing northern Republicans. (Speak) They have something to say to every Negro (Yeah) who has participated in the evil system of segregation and who has stood on the sidelines in a mighty struggle for freedom. They say to each of us, black and white alike, that we must substitute courage for caution. They say to us to be concerned not merely about who murdered them, but about the system, the way of life, the philosophy that produced the murderers. Their death says to us that we must work passionately and unrelentingly for the realization of the American dream.

What Haley does not seem to be conceding is that to heal, you must first admit to your problem. For to address the legacy of racism in South Carolina will only conceal a wound, not ameliorate it.

Moral cowardice requires choice and action. It demands that its adherents repeatedly look away, the fanciful over the plain, myth over history, the dream over the real. Here is another choice.

Take down the flag. Take it down now.

Put it in a museum. Inscribe beneath it the years 1861-2015. Move forward. Abandon this charlata out this cult of death and chains. Save your lovely souls. Move forward. Do it now.

Dear Governor Haley, I hear stories about the Confederate Battle Flag about taken it down. My question is why don't we take down the battle flag and put up the confederate flag. it looks just like the American flag. that's why the Confederate Battle Flag was used because soldiers during the war between the North and the South thought it was the American flag. I'm a true Southerner, but by the grace of God I love everyone no matter what their gender or race. If others love the South as I. they shouldn't have a problem with this. Thank You America, South Carolina and the World. Sam

The Governor needs to speak more strongly and directly against the pervasive racism that exists in Carolina. To say businesses have not raised concerns about the Confederate Flag dismisses ALL T CITIZENS who have. It is divisive and needs to be removed NOW as a show of respect. I understand legislation is being introduced to undo the compromise passed in 2000. She needs to support it. A needs to be taken in passing a law against hate crimes in our state. Lastly, some additional safeguards such as restrictions in carrying concealed weapons is needed. What a black eye for SC! Show for God's sake!

Governor Haley,

I cannot imagine a more appropriate time to finally do the "right thing" and remove the flag from the capitol and any other state buildings, websites or correspondence. Doing so will send that you and the other legislators in this state who have expressed outrage and sorrow at the horrific Dylann Roof also understand the offensive nature of that symbol of slavery and oppression to all citizens - black and white.

The flag may be a part of the history of this state, but not a part that we are proud of - and certainly should display in relationship to any facet of modern day state governance.

Put politics aside, listen to your conscience and get rid of the flag, please.

Your tears for the dead were insulting. You clearly support racism. How ugly. How can you hate people but you claim to be Christian. Jesus is crying, and unlike yourself, for real. Racism is rampant in your country. You are the leader, proudly displaying the Rebel flag, which makes a racist statement and you know it. I am not a Christian, partly because of the hypocrisy, but I try to love all people, unlike many Christians. You need to reread the bible.

Please have the Confederate flag at your state capitol building lowered to half-staff-- or removed. If full-staff-- and indeed flying it at all-- sends an implicit message of approval to white supremacists like the young man who assassinated Pastor Pinckney and the eight other people a little over twenty-four years ago. Please. Our nation needs to disavow the symbols of slavery and segregation that still function to create hatred, and violence of the kind that people like Dylann Storm Roof embody.

<MSG>

Dear Governor Haley,

All of us share your grief at the killing of nine Black People. Hate crimes like this are happening and everyone has a responsibility to look into their hearts to find what we all must do to stop all of senseless kills -- especially hate crimes. I never stop grieving when I hear of yet more senseless killing in our country.

One thing your state can do is to take down the confederate flag. The following article by Rachel Carson expresses the sentiments of many Americans who are mourning:

If you're the governor of a state that suffers a tragedy, the common sign of respect is to fly all the state flags half-staff. It's what Connecticut Gov. Dannel Malloy did in 2013, after the Sandy Hook Elementary School massacre. It's what Colorado Gov. John Hickenlooper did in 2012 after the Aurora movie theater shooting. It's also what South Carolina Gov. Nikki Haley did today, after a white man in Charleston, South Carolina shot and killed nine people at a historically black church in an act that is already being investigated as a hate crime.

Lowering the flag is a widely recognized gesture, a way to honor the dead as the state and country mourn. In South Carolina, however, one flag is a potent symbol of racism-and a symbol claimed by the alleged perpetrator himself in the form of a decorative plate on his car. So why is the Confederate flag, which flies over

To understand what seems like a shockingly callous move, first you have to understand what the battle is about. (After all, it's not South Carolina's state flag, the palmetto flag, which features a red palmetto tree and crescent design.) The Confederate flag used to fly proudly atop the State House dome ever since the state's then-all-white legislature voted that it be so in 1962 as a symbol of defiance against the Civil Rights movement. It would take nearly 40 years, a boycott by the NAACP that reportedly cost the state more than $7 billion, massive protests, and the condemnation of presidential nominee John McCain for the South Carolina Legislature to reconsider flying such a flag on the building that represents their state government.

Finally, in 2000, the state passed a bill banning the Confederate flag from being flown over the State House dome as well as in the chambers of the Senate and House of Representatives. It was moved to the grounds of the Confederate Soldier Monument, where it stands now. Along with the move came a new statute. "The Confederate battle flag must be flown on a flagpole located at a point on the south side of the Confederate Soldier Monument, on the monument, ten feet from the base of the monument at a height of thirty feet," it reads.

What that means is that in South Carolina, the Confederate flag abides by its own rules. While governors can usually order that all state and national flags within their jurisdiction be flown at half-staff, this one is exempt. Instead, the Confederate flag's location can be changed only by a two-thirds vote of both branches of the General Assembly. "In South Carolina, the governor does not have legal authority to order the flag lowered," said a press secretary for Haley. "Only the General Assembly can do that." That is why, while all other flags under the authority of the state have all been lowered in mourning, this one is still flying so audaciously. Haley could order it lowered, it's not clear that she would; in the past, she's actually defended keeping the flag on state grounds, reassuring voters that it's done nothing to harm the state's image.

Since the General Assembly ended its 2015 legislative session on June 5, it's likely the Capitol's Confederate flag will continue to fly high, while the families of the shooter's nine black victims mourn the carnage and hate crime.

Thank you for your attention to this matter. It would be a great first step.

Sincerely,

Pauline [REDACTED]

I would like to join what I am sure are thousands of citizens in condemning you for allowing the C flag to continue to fly over the South Carolina capital. It is most insensitive and hateful, especially what has just happened at the church in Charleston. The Confederate flag is a symbol of hatred, bi; white supremacy. Additionally, it is a throw back to the hateful and cruel days of slavery. Be a leader for uniting the people of your state and this country. Which brings me to gun control: Congratulations to a state where a troubled and racist young man can get access to a gun with no training, license, background check or any other safeguards. You and the NRA and all of the legislators who continue to allow this to taint the blood of the innocents on your hands.

It is an International and National disgrace for an actual state to be flying this flag. It is all about H RACISM and SLAVERY. It is time for South Carolina to join the United States of America. Flying the face of a mass assassination in your historic Church is beyond belief. This 21 year old kid has b racism. You are NOT born with HATE. YOU LEARN IT. Every day you fly that flag is a disaster. South to speak the truth. I wonder how many members of the KKK are in YOUR ADMINISTRATION right thing. Take the flag down and then start a comprehensive anti hate education program. Teach schools about how South Carolina was completely wrong to be a member of the confederacy. A g states that promoted HATE. Time to grow up and start teaching love thy neighbor. You guys make an American.

I saw you crying on the news a few minutes ago.

I wonder if you are only crying because SC looks bad in the eyes of the world today.

I have a hard time believing that your emotion has anything to do with the enormous historic pain of our people, and others seeking redress of systemic racial injustice in your state, in response to yet another motivated shooting.

If you really want to show you value the lives of the people killed last night in the name of white supremacy, we will take down the Confederate flag at the SC State House.

Not fly it at half staff, TAKE IT DOWN.

It is a symbol of a time when white supremacy was unchecked by law.

It is a symbol that is revered by white supremacists today even more than the official flag of the United States.

Flying it at half staff will rub salt and pepper into the wounds (slave reference intentional) of those good people who died in that act of terrorism at Mother Emanuel.

That flag flying is a symbol of triumph for everyone who agrees with what Dylann Wolf did.

Take it down.

If your tears are real, TAKE IT DOWN.

The fact that you continue to fly the Confederate Flag from your Statehouse is a slap in the face to majority of African Americans, and you should be deeply ashamed and embarrassed. You contribute caricature of the South which may be unfair but will continue until you stop romanticizing a past that reasonable person would consider a blood drenched nightmare. After the Third Reich Nazi symbol from public display in Germany. I'm proud to live in a country that guarantees free speech to an extent bans are impossible, but as representatives of the people you have the responsibility to not display which represents violence and hate. By doing so you give aid and comfort to terrorists and murder some respect. Show some class. Take it down. Until you do so I will never conduct any business in your state, and I will lobby any organization I conduct business with to follow suit.

Dear Gov. Haley: I was surprised to learn tonight that you govern over a state which proudly flies the Confederate Flag. Tomorrow when you go to your office, I would just have one question for you... of what that flag stands for? I used to be a moderate Republican until 2010 when I saw the hatred the GOP stands for. Maybe you can at least fly your disgusting Confederate flag at half mast. Sadly, I think that would not go over well with you and your racist constituents. I live in a state with a Republican (Mike Pence). He just hates gay people, but thank goodness he has not yet moved to flying the Confederate flag. My advise, take that flag down and put it in a museum. I just do not understand why the GOP always looks to the past. You and the GOP are always looking backwards which is why I will be voting forward. I will never be for a Republican candidate for President of our great County.

Sincerely,

Carol [REDACTED]

I saw you crying on the news a few minutes ago.

I wonder if you are only crying because SC looks bad in the eyes of the world today.

I have a hard time believing that your emotion has anything to do with the enormous historic pain of African American people, and others seeking redress of systemic racial injustice in your state, in response to yet another motivated shooting.

If you really want to show you value the lives of the people killed last night in the name of white supremacy, you will take down the Confederate flag at the SC State House.

Not fly it at half staff. TAKE IT DOWN.

It is a symbol of a time when white supremacy was unchecked by law.

It is a symbol that is revered by white supremacists today even more than the official flag of the United States.

Flying it at half staff will rub salt and pepper into the wounds (slave reference intentional) of those good people who died in that act of terrorism at Mother Emanuel.

That flag flying is a symbol of triumph for everyone who agrees with what Dylann Wolf did.

Take it down.

If your tears are real, TAKE IT DOWN.

<MSG>

To the governor and legislators of the State of South Carolina. I am a third generation Italian American grandfather fought in WW1, my father and uncles fought in WW2. I served in the U.S. Army during Vietnam war. We all fought alongside people of all races in order to preserve freedoms for all race world. The flag of the confederate states of America, whether intentional or not, is a contentious symbol of hatred to many people. Both perpetrators of racial hate and victims of the racial hatred. As an American I am disgusted to see that flag continue to fly upon the honorable grounds of the state of South Carolina. I implore the great state of South Carolina to recognize that the flag continues to cause in our country, and further I implore your state not only to remove the flag from the State but also to tell everyone across our country that the flag should be retired to historical museum. I please understand the pain this flag causes to free people across our country and be considerate of the feelings of our country. Sincerely and respectfully, Frank [REDACTED]

As a property owner in SC I am embarrassed and enraged that the confederate flag would fly at the building. What kind of leadership style is that? Is the legislature promoting an environment of repr black citizens circa 1861? Why are we perpetuating a divisive policy? The flag is a powerful symt intolerance not a charming antiquity. Taking it down would be an easy first step towards healing.

You and I and every person I could reach on social media knows that the confederate flag stands for hate. Period. Every single day that flag flies on your pole, in front of your office, I know I am better off somewhere else.

Take it down.

Dear Governor Haley.

I appreciate your warm, heartfelt comments regarding the terrorist hate crime in Charleston. I truly words are a step towards healing for the families and congregation of Emanuel African Methodist Church. I have one concern. The Confederate flag still flies at your state's capitol. That flag has been used for hate against African American people for decades, and I'm certain you and your constituents are aware of this. At this time, the most sensitive and sensible thing to do would be to take that flag down peacefully. This imagery is comparable to the Swastika. It reminds people of centuries of slavery and decades of inequality. Furthermore, it almost justifies hate. The state Government has a responsibility to educate and not perpetuate by proudly flying images that support dissension and racism. I hope you understand my concern. I understand that this is an issue that has to be addressed by the state legislature, but with your influence and power, I know you can make a difference in this matter. Thank you for taking time to read this and I hope you will influence change in your state that may bring people closer to unity and solidarity.

Sincerely,

Gary [REDACTED] MD

I see on television news that the state flag is approximately at half staff, but the Confederate flag is lowered for African Americans.

This tells us that those who continue to claim this blood stained and dishonored flag do not exercise decency. If this dishonored flag must fly, it must be lowered to half staff.

It is only decency.

<SUBJECT>Lowering of the Confederate flag to half staff</SUBJECT>

<MSG>

Dear Governor Haley:

This morning on CNN I learned that while the American flag at the capital is lowered to half staff in honor of those killed in Charleston, the flag at the Confederate Memorial is still flying at full staff. As a southern gentleman and former resident and former business owner who also served as the "Adopt A Highway" Coordinator for Greenville County in the beautiful state of South Carolina I am disappointed, embarrassed, and have too many other negative adjectives to list here, over this issue. The Confederate flag is an honorable representation of pride to folks, such as me, to all true and mature southerners. I would respectfully and emphatically request that the flag at the Confederate memorial located at the Capital building be lowered to half staff immediately in honor of those killed in the shooting in Charleston. Too much effort went into the flag and memorial at the capital to allow the citizens of South Carolina to be embarrassed, on a national level, by not lowering it as was done with the American flag that flies over the capital building. I kindly hope that this issue be addressed post haste.

Respectfully,

T.Dwight [REDACTED]

<SUBJECT>Confederate Flag</SUBJECT>

<MSG>

In the wake of the tragedy in Charleston, I would like to express my feelings about the confederate flying in South Carolina. My children went to USC in Columbia and every time I visited, my heart saw the flag at the State House. Also, we lived in Greenville for a short time, and I cringed every t confederate flag flying. And today I read that the confederate flag is not flying at half-mast today - understand this! Please do something - this is not who we are as human beings. Regardless of wha people (I am white)want to say the flag is really representative of, we know what it really represen should not allow a group of people in this country to have to endure the memories and feelings of really represents. We are better than that and it is time for you Governor to stand up for what is rig legislation passed that will ban the public flying of this flag once and for all.

Dear Madame Governor:

I live not in your wonderful State, but I feel like a wounded kindred spirit or mourning family member and all of its residents in the aftermath of this week's great tragedy. In recognition of the loss of nine individuals, and together - helped to make your State a vital and wonderful community of many - I urge upon you to take the daring stand and lower the State flag in true tribute.

Dear Governor Haley,

In the recent terrorist attacks which occurred at the AME Church in downtown Charleston...I hope lowered include the confederate flag. To be honest, if you really are sincere with your comments(\ you were) in the press, the flag really should come down.

The confederate flag symbol represents divisiveness among all African American people...this wo step.

In addition, passing laws allowing guns to come in the a house of Worship, got us to this.

While my heart goes out to the family of those so savagely murdered...it goes out for Dylann Roof family as well. I pray that he asks God to forgive him and can start healing.

This will continue to happen unless as the President stated, we start a dialogue to discuss the racism exist in America.

I hope you will consider as least lowered the confederate flag also.

Respectfully,
[REDACTED]

Dear Governor Haley,

So many of us from around the country are mourning with the good people of South Carolina the loss of the horrific tragedy that occurred in Charleston this week. This clearly was a racially motivated crime, yet another blow to the fraying fabric of our efforts as a nation, in spite of the great challenges, to create a pluralistic democracy that ensures basic rights for people of all races, nationalities and religions. I believe that it pains you, as much as it does so many of us, to see in this dark moment, the Confederate battle flag waving high over the capital of your beautiful state.

Whatever else it may be, it is also a symbol, for most Americans, and particularly black Americans, of violence and hate. This is a symbol we can no longer afford to celebrate or even tolerate. So many of us are faced with crucial, morally significant but politically costly decisions at some critical point in time. Those that recognize the deeper call of the moment and lead us to greater understanding, collaboration and peace as a people are the bright lights that guide us as we continue to engage in this great social experiment. God will grant you the strength and fortitude to answer the call of this moment and to be that bright light for the people of South Carolina and for all of us during this difficult time. Respectfully, Pamela [REDACTED]

Dear Governor Haley:

I just heard well crafte from you, Governor, on a radio broadcast. I also learned that the confederate battle flag is still flow capitol, the argument being that this banner is representative of your "heritage."

The Nazi flag no longer flies over the capitol in Berlin, despite being a part of that nation's heritage nation is rightfully ashamed of that part of their heritage. Just like the third reich, the confederacy i Governor. It was defeated in a righteous war, as it should have been, as it must have been.

Before you speak of "tragedy," Governor, consider your own role in this crime. You and all the oth officials of South Carolina who have allowed that flag to fly must share in the blame. This was not This was racially motivated terrorism, fostered in part by a government that instead of denouncing pays homage to them. Take down the flag Governor. The war is over. Thank you for the work you do to serve South Carolina and for being a vital part of this country.

We all are grief stricken by the tragic event in Charleston.

Predictably, there are and will be cries to ban guns, and because of the race of the victims, cries to remove the Confederate flag from the Capital.

My prayers go out to the families of Charleston affected and for you as leaders dealing with this crisis.

Please note the drugs taken by the suspect and the same pattern for other criminals in mass murders.

Let's address this.

There are laws for guns. Let's maintain our right to bear arms. The people crying about the flag war are not the people who understand what the flag means, usually these are the people who are tolerant of everything but what is truly sacred.
