So sorry you are having an issue with that. I just checked that out by clicking on a story, which I did earlier as well, and I am still not having an issue. I actually went to several different stories. Are you in the office today? I could come over and see if I can help. Also, you may want to try restarting your computer and it may help reset it.

Let me know. If this doesn't help, I will try calling them to see why you would be having an issue.

Click on a story. That's when I got that screen. Still happening.

Hey Danny! I was able to get on it just now. Are you using just robertsj for the Login info and Lgo2017 for the password?
