Subject: I'd like to ask the governor a Clemson question

I was going to ask the governor at the State Fiscal Accountability Authority meeting, but her schedule was a bit busy. What I'd like to talk to her about is:

What does she (as a minority and a Clemson graduate as much as governor) think Clemson should do about the name of Tillman Hall?

What does she think of Clemson's recent efforts to offer more scholarships to minority students and recruit more minority faculty to make the school a more diverse place?

And what was it like for her as a minority on Clemson's campus some mmpphh years ago?

I'm writing the story for today based on the sit-ins after going up there yesterday. It is a broader look at Clemson's struggles with diversity and its outreach over the past few years.
