Subject: 5 Essential Principles for the New Era of Digital Governing

Hi Tony,

No doubt you understand the ever-present role technology plays in your everyday tasks in government. I'd like to share a favorite whitepaper from Granicus, 5 Essential Principles for the New Era of Digital Governing, in which we outline five critical areas where technology will most affect government this year.

Download the whitepaper to see a summary of the collected research and data we combed through, as well as our take on the industry-wide trends and benefits that government leaders can expect as technology advancements continue to work their way into government offices.

Best Regards,

Michael Ashford
