If I can get it by next Monday, that'll be fine. No huge hurry

Hey Chaney,

Hope all is well. This is Chris over at the Business Report. I'm working on a story advancing the impending wrapup of Amazon's sales tax break, which it will begin collecting on Jan. 1.

I was hoping to get a statement from Haley on this. I'm curious, was this sales tax a success? Was it worth it in the long run to give them this break in order to bring all the jobs and economic activity to the area? It's projecting to bring $13.7 million annually to the state once it begins collecting on Jan. 1, just how important will that money be as South Carolina continues flood recovery efforts and potential infrastructure improvements?

Thanks so much!
