The Hi-Tech Weapons, Tactics Police Used to Stop San Bernardino Shooters by Inside Edition 3:45 PM EST, December 3, 2015

A new anti-terror weapon, an armored vehicle called The Rook, was front and center as the drama in California unfolded.

The vehicle minimizes risk as officers approach a target and can be used as a battering ram to tear buildings apart.

The Rook can also place an assault team on a roof to launch a hostage rescue. Shaun Mitchell sold the rook to the San Bernardino Police just a few months ago.

"The rook is a chess piece, when it shows up – checkmate," he told INSIDE EDITION.

The Rook is custom designed and fabricated by Ring Power Corporation, utilizing the powerful Cat® chassis as the base, The Rook provides service advantages that other tactical vehicles just don't have. Unlike traditional armored vehicles, The Rook is capable of being used in tight areas both inside and outside of public buildings to transport personnel or equipment and for surveillance.
