

Governor of South Carolina
Nikki Haley,

July 12th 2015

I would like to say I'm appalled that the vote to remove the Confederate flag wasn't put up to the people of the state, rather than just to satisfy a few people who called for the removal of the flag. And for all the stores who have banned the sale of the Confederate Battle flag, they will still sell the Nazi flag, which is ironic I think! The NAACP wants the flag removed from all the war memorials and monuments I believe, and they may as well remove photos of the flag from our history books as well.

I can't believe all this is over a flag which wasn't responsible for the shooting at the church, but due to a racist individual who hated blacks.

The Confederate States flew other flags besides the Battle flag. Maybe putting up the "Bonny Blue Flag" that represented the Southern states would be more acceptable to the people. I suggest you considerate it. Thank you for reading this letter.
