

2014 South Carolina Criminal Justice Training Conference November 11-14, 2014

Presented in Partnership by the SC Correctional Association, SC Law Enforcement Officers' Association and SC Probation & Parole Association

August 22, 2014

The Honorable Nikki Haley
Governor of the State of South Carolina
Office of the Governor
1205 Pendleton Street
Columbia, South Carolina 29201

Dear Governor Haley:

On behalf of the South Carolina Law Enforcement Officers Association (SCLEOA), South Carolina Correctional Association (SCCA), and the South Carolina Probation and Parole Association (SCPPA), I am honored to extend you this formal invitation to address South Carolina's finest law enforcement, correctional, and probation and parole professionals. The Ninth Annual South Carolina Criminal Justice Training Conference continues to exemplify the growing unity among the criminal justice systems in the state.

This year over 450 local, state, and federal law enforcement, correctional, and probation and parole professionals will come together to promote community safety, behavioral change, and recidivism reduction. The conference is taking place between Tuesday, November 11th and Friday, November 14th, 2014 at the Marriott Resort in Myrtle Beach, South Carolina.

We would appreciate your appearance, support, and sharing of your vision of South Carolina's criminal justice system's future at this event. While our conference is highly structured, we would accommodate your appearance at any time during the conference.

Please contact me at the United States Probation Office at 803-765-5558 if you have questions about the conference. I look forward to hearing from you or your designated staff in the near future. On behalf of the members of the associations above, thank you for your consideration of this invitation.

Respectfully submitted,

O. Quincy Avinger, Jr.
Conference Chair 2014
