EVERETT, Washington (AP) — Donald Trump will be taking his first foreign trip as the Republican presidential nominee on Wednesday, making a quick visit to Mexico, a nation he derided as the home of rapists and criminals as he launched his campaign.

campaign. The meeting with President Enrique Pena Nieto comes hours before Trump is set to deliver a highly-anticipated immigration speech.

Bill Clinton eyes exit from charity that has shaped legacy

WASHINGTON (AP) — When Bill Clinton told the staff of his global charity he would have to step down if Hillary Clinton returned to the White House, he was vividly clear about how that felt: Worse than a root canal, he said. For Clinton, the foundation's name has shaped much of his post-White House legacy, helping transform him from a popular yet scandal-tainted president into an international philanthropist and humanitarian.

Monsoon rains, terrorism ad lib snag Kerry in South Asia

NEW DELHI (AP) — U.S. Secretary of State John Kerry's visit to South Asia this week has been filled with serious meetings and agreements to boost ties with India and Bangladesh but his motorcade's struggle with monsoon downpours and an off-the-cuff remark about terrorism may have garnered more attention.
