Dear Nicole,

I am writing you this email because I would like a meeting with Mrs Nikki Haley. I called several times and unable to speak to her. This is in regards to my granddaughter Aluxia. she will be eight on November 3rd. She has lived with us over half her life. her mom has permanent custody but August 13th she went back to a very abusive husband that has put bruises on my granddaughter many times. He had said that he was going to kidnap Jamie and Aluxia or at least Aluxia to get Jamie to come back to him. He did get them on August 13th and I have not been allowed around my granddaughter since. I did see her for only a few minutes on September 16th for my other daughters birthday. Aluxia ran in the house yelling Nani Nani Nani I love and I miss you so much and gave me two of the biggest tightest hugs I didn't think she would ever let go. Then she hugged her papa then ran straight to her room to see her toys.

Before she went back to her abusive husband that had drugs my daughter so bad that she would sleep 12 to 16 hours a day before we got them out of there, she went to DSS and talked with the lady and told the lady some stuff and then I was called in there and she said that I wasn't allowed to be with Aluxia alone for fear of her safety. I told that lady that was very wrong and it is.

Aluxia and I were super close. She went to Church with me and went everywhere with me and her papa.

It was only because all the notes and all the pictures that I had of all the bruises that her husband had put on my granddaughter. Terry had sent jamie a picture of a stack of cash to bribe her to come back. she knew I would not allow my granddaughter back in that house. That's why she fixed it to where Aluxia couldn't be alone with me which is all a lie. so right now my grand daughter is living in the house again with her step dad that has put bruises on her many many times. My daughter Jamie and my granddaughter Aluxia went back to him on August 13th. Only a month after she had went and took a restraining order out on him because she feared for her safety with him. I believe it'll be 6 months before he will put any more bruises on my granddaughter but I'm trying to stop it before it happens. I'm praying he won't bruise her ever again but this is the third time she's went back to him and Aluxia has been bruised every time. since they have went back August 13th, he has been with them 24/7. My daughter told my husband which is her dad the reason he's not working is because he has to have a stent put in his heart but every time his blood pressure shoots up. if someone needs heart surgery they are not going to wait 3 months to do heart surgery. My husband had open heart surgery and when his blood pressure shot up the surgeon gave him something to bring it down he had surgery within 2 days. I think it's just where he can be with them 24/7 which he is doing.

Jamie and Terry are only allowing my granddaughter Aluxia and his daughter Allie to only be around them and his parents. Terry's mother, less than 6 months ago almost ran over me and Jamie with the car and she's allowed around my granddaughter. My husband and I have never harmed my granddaughter or any of them in any way shape or form and we are not allowed around our granddaughter that has been with us over half her life. I really would like to talk to Nikki Haley ASAP. I know she's a very busy lady but my granddaughter is worth a million dollars to me. I have six grandchildren and they're all worth a million dollars to me.

I am a mother of three, and grandmother of 6. I go to Oneal Church of God and I am a true

Christian. I teach Children's Church and the Sweetheart Class for ages 3 to 6 on Wednesday night. I'm also on the Mission Team at church. I love life and I love people. This is also my fourth year of volunteering at Mountain View Elementary School where my granddaughter Aluxia goes to school.

My husband has been having chest pains and severe migraine headaches only because he misses and worries about our granddaughter Aluxia.

But only because I had all the notes and the pictures of all the bruises that Terry and his daughter Allie had put on my granddaughter Aluxia, are they keeping her away from us. That is so unfair. She has been with us every weekend since they have been married. Plus many many days she stayed with us during the week because he was drugged in my daughter and she couldn't stay awake. One time we had Aluxia for four months straight. Please call me ASAP. My number is 864-517-0614.

Most Sincerely,
Anita Bryant
