believed Some one accidently Crossed up the line. the Manager. said I Need to Call a plumber, because they were Not responsible for anything beyond the meter.
So I Called the plumber, who said it cost 1,000 to clear the line. But he dug out some^{thing} out of the outside Floor pipe. And gave it to me in a plastic bag to show to the water department. I showed it to when we had water, I don't know how long I had been drinking off these sand looking plastic, or how long
