Obama's secret database forces 'racist' smear on innocent citizens

<http://canadafreepress.com/article/73861>

A government obsessed with imaginary racism is the soul-killing legacy Barack Obama is leaving Americans.

Obama has come up with an ongoing plan in which the 330 million American population will be corralled into a cattle pasture from which there doesn't seem to be any escape.

In the nightmare world of the Fundamental Transformation of America, although Obama will be through as president on January 20, 2017—he will remain in malevolent spirit.

Lingering in spirit even after his departure is the biggest ego boost Obama will ever have.

If you happened to be a born white conservative, you were always a natural "racist" to the race-obsessed Obama.

The only difference now is that he's managed to make it official.

When the nation's police kept statistics showing black crime on the rise, they were openly accused of 'profiling' by the mainstream media.

The meme, pushed by both Barack and Michelle Obama during their speeches both at home and abroad was that the police only stop young black motorists, and that's the theme that was picked up and repeated by the media.

The Obama administration is profiling the entire population in a rigid new world where people will be catalogued as racists—not because they really are but all because their government tagged them that way.

It's a system where innocence of the charge doesn't count.

In a society where every white American is tagged a racist, citizen life will become a Soviet-like living nightmare

While Obama has kept public attention on ObamaCare; the flooding of illegal aliens, including criminals and potential terrorists across the open southern border; while hollowing out the military and giving nuclear power to Iran, he has been surreptitiously building a data base that keeps all American citizens on file.

- Obama's Orwellian data base will affect every facet of citizen life.
- Your every move will be kept on file.
- The data base mounted by the president includes a housing database, a mortgage database, a credit and employment database.
- Your children, already tracked through school by Common Core, will be millions of statistics in Obama's educrat-run school database.
- Both the National Security Agency (NSA) and the overbearing IRS got nothing on Obama's citizen cattle-branding database.
- How can citizens fight charges of racism when the government has branded them racists in permanent electronic files?

"A key part of President Obama's legacy will be the fed's unprecedented collection of sensitive data on Americans by race. The government is prying into our most personal information at the most local levels, all for the purpose of "racial and economic justice." (New York Post <http://nypost.com/2015/07/18/obama-has-been-collecting-personal-data-for-a-secret-race-database/>, July 18, 2015)

"Unbeknown to most Americans, Obama's racial bean counters are furiously mining data on their health, home loans, credit cards, places of work, neighborhoods, even how their kids are disciplined in school — all to document "inequalities" between minorities and whites.

"This Orwellian-style stockpile of statistics includes a vast and permanent network of discrimination databases, which Obama already is using to make "disparate impact" cases against:

- banks that don't make enough prime loans to minorities;
- schools that suspend too many blacks;
- cities that don't offer enough Section 8 and other low-income housing for minorities; and
- employers who turn down African-Americans for jobs due to criminal backgrounds.

"Big Brother Barack wants the databases operational before he leaves office, and much of the data in them will be posted online.

"So civil-rights attorneys and urban activist groups will be able to exploit them to show patterns of "racial disparities" and "segregation," even if no other evidence of discrimination exists."

There's no whistle-blowing 'hero' like Edward Snowden protecting the citizenry from the Obama trap.

That out-of-the-way secluded house off the grid is now an all but impossible dream.

Housing database

"The granddaddy of them all is the Affirmatively Furthering Fair Housing database, which the Department of Housing and Urban Development rolled out earlier this month to racially balance the nation, ZIP code by ZIP code.

It will map every US neighborhood by four racial groups — white, Asian, black or African-American, and Hispanic/Latino — and publish "geospatial data" pinpointing racial imbalances.

"The agency proposes using nonwhite populations of 50% or higher as the threshold for classifying segregated areas.

IS THIS WHAT YOU WANT IN YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD???

"Federally funded cities deemed overly segregated will be pressured to change their zoning laws to allow construction of more subsidized housing in affluent areas in the suburbs, and relocate inner-city minorities to those predominantly white areas.

HUD's maps, which use dots to show the racial distribution or density in residential areas, will be used to select affordable-housing sites.

"HUD plans to drill down to an even more granular level, detailing the proximity of black residents to transportation sites, good schools, parks and even supermarkets.

If the agency's social engineers rule the distance between blacks and these suburban "amenities" is too far, municipalities must find ways to close the gap or forfeit federal grant money and face possible lawsuits for housing discrimination.

"Civil-rights groups will have access to the agency's sophisticated mapping software, and will participate in city plans to re-engineer neighborhoods under new community outreach requirements.

"By opening this data to everybody, everyone in a community can weigh in," Obama said. "If you want affordable housing nearby, now you'll have the data you need to make your case."

Mortgage database

"Meanwhile, the Federal Housing Finance Agency, headed by former Congressional Black Caucus leader Mel Watt, is building its own database for racially balancing home loans.

The so-called National Mortgage Database Project will compile 16 years of lending data, broken down by race, and hold everything from individual credit scores and employment records.

"Mortgage contracts won't be the only financial records vacuumed up by the database.

According to federal documents, the repository will include "all credit lines," from credit cards to student loans to car loans — anything reported to credit bureaus.

This is even more information than the IRS collects.

"The FHFA will also pry into your personal assets and debts and whether you have any bankruptcies.

The agency even wants to know the square footage and lot size of your home, as well as your interest rate.
