Hi! My husband purchased an annual pass with an educators discount last year. It expired in February. We went to get a new one today at Charlestowne Landing and they said it was only for Charleston county teachers (he's Berkeley). This didn't make sense as this is a state pass, but we didn't argue and just paid $24 for the day today. Is this correct on the passes and if not, is there a way to purchase one and apply the $24 from today toward the cost? Thanks!!

Some counties and school districts make arrangements for their employees to have discounts. That may change from year to year. Where did he purchase the pass last year?

I would suggest you contact the district and see if they have arranged a state park passport discount. We don't offer it to all districts/teachers.
