South Carolina State Parks

at 23:30:00 on 5/05/2017 UTC · 🌐

Congrats to the Chevalias from Travelers Rest, SC! They recently visited all 47 SC State Parks and finished at Hunting Island. You can do it too! Click here to find out how: <http://bit.ly/K743X2>

Angela Kuheim-Smith I knew that was Hunting Island. We love it there! Great memories. Is the park open, again?

South Carolina State Parks Angela, the park is not open in its entirety. The only portion now open is the Nature Center. Another portion is currently scheduled to open Memorial Day weekend.

Carol Chevalia The Ultimate Outsiders is a great way to really see our state. From mountains to sea. Beautiful waterfalls and swamps. From armadillos to alligators. Otters and painted buntings. The rangers are so friendly and helpful. Get out there and hike!

Kandice Kramer Parker I visited all 47 parks and all I got was a mug?

Carol Chevalia Hey, we need those mugs for all the coffee we need to drink on the road! Not to mention the free pass for next year! Which will be really appreciated since a few of the parks had considerable hurricane damage, and we couldn't do any hiking at those. Interestingly enough, the last park of the 47 was the one that was hardest hit by the hurricane; this was the park where we saw the most wildlife -- a pair of painted bunting birds, an immature bald eagle, a boat-tailed grackle hopping from back to back of deer, including a fawn, and a host of other birds. And all of this was right at the location of the nature center, which was the only part of the park open! Oh, and a t-shirt!

South Carolina State Parks And the good news is, you can take as long as you'd like!
