The Honorable Nikki R. Haley
Office of the Governor
1205 Pendleton Street
Columbia, South Carolina 29201

Dear Governor Haley,

As a voting resident of South Carolina, I take pride in knowing that our young adults are at their best in the classroom. I am already aware that many of the school districts in South Carolina have tablets such as iPads, Dell Venues, and things of that nature. And I am also aware that some districts are not privileged enough to be given these classroom tools. I feel that laptops should be a necessary learning tool for high school students, and should be mandatory in South Carolina. There are currently 495 high schools in South Carolina, and the average price of a quality laptop is $500. Which is cheaper than the devices we are currently using. There are ways we can fund this and make it a reasonable goal for the students of South Carolina. I think in the future, it will have a major impact on how the students of South Carolina learn, and improve the overall ability of the students. I hope you will consider this bill, and think of the impact it will have on the future leaders America.

Best regards,

Camryn Finley
